FINAL ORDER TO DISMISS TOGETHER

U. S. Prepares to Blockade Mexican Ports If He Does Not Vacate by Saturday.

Special Cable to The Atlanta Georgian.
MEXICO CITY, Nov. 14 (noon). General Huerta is expected to resign within 24 hours.
An important conference was held at the National Palace, Mexico City, today, at which the Chief of Affairs O'Shaughnessy advised that an important announcement is to be made by the government in a few hours.
It is believed that Huerta will announce his resignation to Congress tomorrow and request the selection of another President and Chief of Affairs.
The United States demands means that the resignation be accepted and Congress will then order another election.

NOGALES, ARIZ., Nov. 14.—The city of Nogales, capital of Sonora, was captured today by Mexican rebels after a desperate battle lasting three days.

LAREDO, TEX., Nov. 14.—The city of Laredo, one of the richest in the border town of Northern Mexico, was captured by constitutionalists today. The federalists fled without firing a shot.

Blockade to Back Up Final Ultimatum.
SPECIAL CABLE TO THE ATLANTA GEORGIAN.
SANTA CRUZ, Nov. 14.—Special Envoy John Lind has sent an ultimatum to the Mexican Government. This was revealed here today by a dispatch from General Huerta.

The ultimatum insists that Huerta yield to all demands of the United States by Saturday. The alternative is immediate blockade of all Mexican ports by American ships.

Lind's demand was transmitted to Huerta in a code dispatch sent shortly after midnight. It was telegraphed by an official of the Mexican Government who was sent here from Mexico City. He conferred secretly with Lind and was informed of the basis on which diplomatic negotiations could continue.

This official is an intimate friend of the Mexican dictator and is acting as a personal envoy of Huerta.

General Huerta was reported today to have consented to a dissolution of the new Congress which he intended to convene to-morrow after several other personal followers had threatened to desert unless the dictator abandoned his policy of despoiling the United States.

After being mysteriously missing for over twenty-four hours, General Huerta has reappeared upon the scene of action. Late last night he appeared at a popular restaurant, accompanied by a military aide, and went to the National Palace.

It was explained that the dictator had spent Thursday in seclusion at the home of War Minister Ballesteros.

Taft Visits White House; Is Warmly Greeted by Wilson

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—Former President Taft unexpectedly came to the White House today and set the staff in a flurry. President Wilson promptly called aside all his engagements to greet the former Chief Executive for a few minutes.
"Tell the President I know he is busy, and I don't want to bother him," said Professor Taft to Rudolph Forster, a White House clerk. He was preparing to leave when Forster rushed out from the President's room and told him the President would not permit him to leave the White House without personally welcoming him.

Court Holds Section Of Tax Law Invalid

In the case of Gauger against the Comptroller General, the Supreme Court today held that the provision relating to the powers of the Comptroller General to issue accounts against tax collectors and their sureties on failure to settle accounts violates the "due process" clause of the Constitution. The court ruled further that it is error to refuse to enforce the enforcement of such an execution when the unconstitutionality of the law is urged as a basis for injunction.

The case came up from Brooks County, where the Sheriff representing the Comptroller sought to collect taxes through execution against the tax collector.

HOW TO FORCE OUR BY HOUSE

Fights Moyer Whitewashing—Declares He Has Facts Making Inquiry Imperative.

Warden Meyers administration of the Atlanta Federal Prison and the disastrous conditions alleged to exist there will receive a sweeping investigation regardless of the action of Attorney General McReynolds.
This was the declaration made Friday by Congressman William Schley Howard of Atlanta, who has been insistent in his demands for a probe of the charges of incompetency and general unfitness against the warden.

"I don't know that the Attorney General was quoted correctly in the recent interview," said Congressman Howard, "nor, if he was, am I certain that his remarks were to be construed as meaning that he was going to drop the Atlanta penitentiary scandal altogether without any show of an investigation."

Howard Determined.
"However, his intentions are really a matter of indifference to me, for there is going to be an investigation of the prison and the conditions there and it's going to be a thorough one if my efforts count for anything."

"I shall introduce a resolution when I return to Washington calling for a Congressional investigation of every detail of the prison administration here in Atlanta. If the resolution is adopted there will be three Democratic members and two Republicans."

"The Department of Justice is only a creature of Congress at its best. I am not deeply concerned about its attitude in the matter, although I have been given to understand that an impartial investigation would be made by persons wholly independent of any bias or feeling for or against Warden Meyer and his subordinates."

Has Important Facts.
"If this probe is abandoned, I shall be surprised, but it will not interfere in the least with my plans for an investigation. I shall return to Washington within a few days and lay before Congress my reasons for an investigation."

"I do not wish to appear in the role of a judge before any formal investigation is made, but I am in possession of facts that make it imperative for me to seek to have the light of publicity thrown on affairs out there."

"From personal observation, I am convinced that the prisoners have been underfed. I know that there is a 'dungeon' there in which prisoners may be handcuffed to the bars, in spite of all denials. There are a lot of other conditions that will come to light when the investigation is started. Not all of them will have to do directly with the treatment of the prisoners. Considerable time will be spent in looking into the way the Government's money has been expended in construction work."

Food Better Since Mutiny, Says Freed Man

The quality of the food served at the Federal Prison has materially improved since the mutiny of several weeks ago, according to J. E. Levens, who was released Thursday after spending a year and a day in the penitentiary. Levens, a Department of Justice prisoner, has been conducting an investigation into the affairs of the prison for the past several weeks, but that the manner in which it is to be a witness.

Levens, who illustrates he was formerly a minister, acknowledges the prison officials.

Rosser and Arnold Oppose Each Other

Luther Rosser and Reuben Arnold, Frank's attorneys Friday opposed each other in the Federal Court when the Texas Oil Company filed a bill of equity to prevent T. E. Purcell from purchasing his case in the Fulton County Court.

Rosser is representing the Texas Company and Arnold, sponsors for Purcell. Purcell alleges he made a contract with the Texas company for 49,000 barrels of gasoline the company failed to deliver. The price advanced and Purcell claims he could have made a quarter of a million profit.

McCombs Wishes No Office; Declares He Won't Go to Paris

NEW YORK, Nov. 14.—"I have no taste for public office, and I do not expect to take public office. It is more fun to get office for other people than to hold them myself."
This declaration was made here today by William F. McCombs, who had just arrived from Europe on the Mauretania with his bride, formerly Miss Dorothy Williams, of Washington, and it completely set at rest reports that Mr. McCombs would succeed Mayor T. H. Hordie, of Ohio, as Ambassador to France.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14.—It is reported here that Mr. and Mrs. Joseph L. McKim, who are to be married here today, will give a wedding gift of $10,000 to the Federal Prison.

FAST SOUTHERN TRAIN CRASHES IN FLAME ON SIDING; 2 INJURED

Detectives have been sent out from Atlanta to investigate what is believed to have been an attempt at wholesale slaughter in the wreck of the palatial "Royal Palm," the new limited Southern Railway train No. 2, which plunged through an open switch at Hazlehurst, Ga., into a switch engine shortly after 4 o'clock Friday morning.

Engineer Fred M. Pair, of No. 2, whose home is in Macon, jumped from his engine, barely saving his life. His leg was broken. C. A. Pressley, also of Macon, who was in charge of the switch engine, lost one finger and suffered scalp wounds. Scores of sleeping passengers on the limited train were aroused and some of them badly shaken up.

Investigation of the accident by Conductor Strickland of No. 2 showed that the switch had been thrown to open the siding, the rod disconnected and the switch light turned to show an open track for the main line.

A short piece of iron pipe, found nearby, is believed to have been used in breaking the switch. Had it not been that the Royal Palm was brought down to a rate of about 15 miles per hour in passing through Hazlehurst, there is but little doubt that many persons would have lost their lives.

Officials of the Southern in Atlanta declared that they would make a searching investigation of the wreck.

Probe of Clayton Wreck Under Way.

ATLANTA, Ala., Nov. 14.—A review of the places the number of dead in the Central of Georgia wreck, seven miles southwest of Euclid, Thursday morning at twelve and the injured at about 100. Of the latter it is feared that the injuries of some will result fatally. The corrected death list is as follows:

Pump Outlets, Clayton: Munroe Floyd, Clayton; Miss Bonnie Brock, Clayton; Carl Bell, child, Clayton; Mrs. Louis Wilkinson, Clayton; Mrs. C. A. Pressley, Clayton; Mrs. A. O. Adams, Euclidville; Mrs. A. O. Adams, Euclidville; Mrs. W. L. McLean, Clayton; Zach Peak, Clayton; Wash McCreary, Clayton; and Maud McCreary, Clayton.

A public investigation of the wreck was begun this afternoon at Clayton, with officers of the Central of Georgia presiding, including R. J. Harlan, general manager; C. P. Hammond, general superintendent of maintenance; and W. W. Boushelle, chief trainmaster. The officials arrived here by special train this morning and proceeded at once to the scene of the wreck, and went on to Clayton shortly before noon. Orders were received from the heads of the road at Savannah Thursday night that the wreckage be not disturbed in any way in order that the investigation would not be hindered.

According to local officials of the railroad, this is the first accident on the Euclid and Ocala division of the Central of Georgia which has resulted in loss of life to passengers.

The work of caring for the wounded was thoroughly organized Friday morning after a strenuous night for the officers at Euclidville and Clayton. The report is that the more seriously injured are doing as well as could be expected.

Frank Files Reasons for New Trial

PRAGAN CASE IN SUPREME COURT

Argument To Be Set for December 15 and Final Decision May Be Made by March.

All doubt as to when the arguments will be heard by the Supreme Court in the Pragan case was set at rest Saturday, when the bill of exceptions, properly certified, was filed with the clerk of the court for record.

This means the case will go on the calendar for argument on December 15, although actual argument may not be heard for three or four days thereafter.

Arguments in the case may be made either orally and by brief, or by brief alone. If oral arguments are made, the hearing likely will last several days. If briefs are relied upon entirely, however, the hearing will be exceedingly short and non-spectacular.

Following the submitting of arguments the court of review will take the case under advisement for such length of time as it deems necessary, not to exceed twelve months, however. If the case takes the usual course a final ruling may be looked for about March.

If the verdict and rulings of the lower court are affirmed as matters of law, the case ends so far as the State of Georgia is concerned, and the execution of the defendant in the trial would alone will be necessary to close the case.

If the case is reversed, it will go back to the lower court for retrial, exactly as if it had never been tried, and likely will come on for trial again in July of next year.

New Plaza Plan Is To Be Recommended

A meeting of the joint committee of the City Council and the Chamber of Commerce on the proposed plaza over the Western and Atlantic terminals has been called for Monday at 11 o'clock.

A subcommittee at a meeting Friday afternoon decided to recommend a tentative plan that would cost $1,500,000. The new plan provides for a four-story passenger station.

Robbers Bid Victim A Chery 'Good Night'

Detectives Saturday are searching for two highwaymen who held up J. M. Nix, an insurance man, of No. 111 East Ellis street, as he was about to enter the door of his home Friday night. The highwaymen robbed Nix of $12 and, with a chery "good night," escaped.

3 AMERICANS KILLED IN FALL OF JAUREZ

Rebels in Night Attack Rout the Huerta Forces--Powers Back U. S. in New Note.

Special Cable to The American.

MEXICO CITY, Nov. 15.—Chargé d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy has gone to the national palace to see General Huerta. Indications at the American Embassy were that he was the bearer of a message. While he was at the palace Mexican officials declared that Huerta had no intention of resigning to-day.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—On receipt of information that several Americans were killed during the capture of Juarez by the Constitutionists early to-day, Secretary Bryan instructed Consul Edwards, at Juarez to investigate the matter and to report at once to the State Department.

Secretary Bryan admitted to-day that another note has been sent to President Huerta through Chargé d'Affaires O'Shaughnessy. The American charge will deliver this communication to-day or to-morrow. Upon the reply of the Mexican President will depend whether the United States will withdraw its embassy from Mexico City.

The Secretary of State further asserted that all the European powers have stated their intention of supporting the United States in its Mexican policy and added that Japan also has made plain the fact that it will support President Wilson.

News to this effect reached the State Department today directly from Tokyo and removed doubt from the minds of Government officials concerning the attitude of the Japanese government.

It has been feared here that Japan would attempt to block the American policy in Mexico by supplying President Huerta with arms, ammunition and other supplies. Now, however, that assurances have been received from all the world powers that the United States is to have a free hand in settling the Mexican trouble in its own way, administration officials are certain that President Wilson's policy will be brought to a successful termination within a short time.

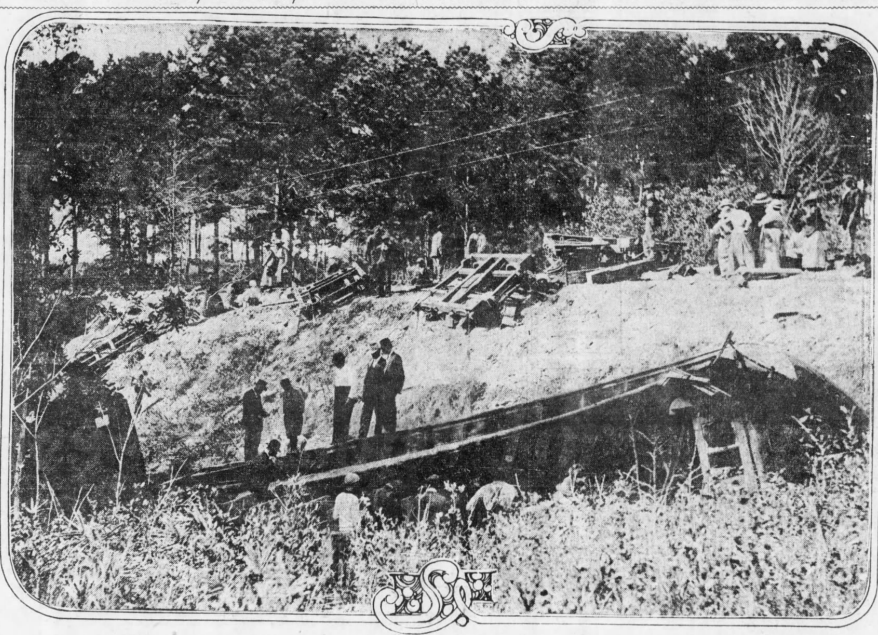

The feeling is strong in Washington that President Huerta has reached the end of his career and that another fortnight will see another head of the Mexican Government.

Rebels Surprise and Capture Juarez in Night.

EL PASO, TEXAS, Nov. 15.—The city of Juarez, just across the Rio Grande, was captured by Mexican rebels, surprised and captured the city.

SCENE AT WRECK OF EXCURSION TRAIN, NEAR CLAYTON, ALA., THAT KILLED 12 AND HURT 200

HURLED 50 FEET BY GIANT CRANE

H. M. Bannister, a boiler-maker, was hurled 50 feet Saturday morning into a "dumppit" at the city crematory and was taken to Grady Hospital, still conscious and with no bones broken, but suffering with injuries about the head and face.

A traveling crane, used for lifting the refuse to the incinerators, swept over the platform and knocked the workman off into the adjoining pit.

Other workmen, horrified at his cry of alarm as he was swept out into the abyss, were certain he must be killed by the fall, but before they could reach his supposedly unconscious form they heard him calling feebly for help.

The first examination at the hospital indicated that Bannister would recover.

Fortunately for the workman, who landed on his head and shoulders, the impact of his fall was broken by a net of rope and other comparatively soft material.

Elected With 1 Vote; Opponent Ruled Out

ELIZABETH N. J. Nov. 15.—His opponent's election having been declared void on a technicality, William J. Adams, a Democrat, has been elected constable at Summit, although he received but one vote. Sixty-four of the 65 registered Republican candidates, received 423 majority.

Ousting of Clements To Square Political Debt Raises Storm

The plan tooust Judge Judson Clements, of Georgia, from the Interstate Commerce Commission, to make way for a "patronage candidate," is causing a storm of criticism among the Judge's Georgia friends, and echoes of the storm are being heard in Washington.

The fact that Judge Prouty, the oldest member of the Commission in point of service, is to retire, makes it appear that the services of Judge Clements, the next oldest member, are particularly needed at this time.

The Washington Times has had a special mention in an effort to adjust the question, and another will be held, later to-day.

Young Broyles Is Indicted as Forger

Thirty-five indictments were sent to Judge Hill by the Grand Jury Saturday morning.

Three of the indictments were against A. Emerson Broyles, each alleging a felony, one for forging the name of Logan Williamson, his employer, and the other two for passing counterfeit checks.

The present Grand Jury has returned nearly 100 indictments since its organization two weeks ago.

Star Outfielder Bought by Crackers

DECATUR, Ill., Nov. 15.—Outfielder S. S. Flanagan, of the Decatur Three team was sold to-day to Atlanta, of the Southern League, for $200.

He has been the star of the Decatur team for the past two seasons, holding 338 and leading the Three I League in batting last season.

Who Will Entertain Governor Slaton Has Stirred Up Waycross

WAYCROSS, Nov. 15.—Waycross is upset to-day over who will entertain Governor John M. Slaton when he visits this city next Thursday.

Arrangements have been made for a banquet starting at 9 o'clock, preceded by a two-hour reception at the Board of Trade. But before the banquet arrangements were completed Representative L. J. Cooper made plans to entertain the Governor with a dinner from 6 to 8 o'clock at his home, and proposed to carry out his plan.

The Board of Trade has had a special mention in an effort to adjust the question, and another will be held, later to-day.

Thief Gets Away With Hen, Despite Shower of Bullets

Desperately clinging to a stolen chicken, a thief scrambled over the rear fence at the residence of J. Jacobs, No. 391 Capitol avenue, at 4 o'clock Saturday morning, pursued by a shower of bullets Jacobs sent after him from a second-story window.

Jacobs had installed a burglar alarm in his chicken house. Early Saturday morning it awoke him. He crept to a rear window, pistol in hand, and stealthily raised the sash, just in time to see a man emerge from the henhouse.

Jacobs fired five times quickly, while the thief fairly leaped the rear fence—and got away with the chicken.

Stone Mountain Rate Accepted by Rail Co.

The Georgia Railway and Power Company has notified the Georgia Railroad Commission of its acceptance of the rates fixed by the Commission on the line between Atlanta and Stone Mountain. This ruling fixes the rate at 25 cents between Stone Mountain and Atlanta and 1 cent between Decatur and Atlanta.

A letter from President Acknowledged, of the company, to Murphy Candler, chairman of the commission, accepted the rates under protest. Mr. Candler advised him that the rates fixed were only tentative, and if at a later date they be changed to the disadvantage of the commission would be repaid by the company.

CUYLER IS BACK TO SEE LAWYER

Trilmon "Crater" Smith Cuyler, who has filed suit in Chicago against his mother-in-law, Mrs. Isabella T. Barton, for $200,000, alleging alienation of the affections of his divorced wife, Mrs. Grace Barton Cuyler, returned to Atlanta late Friday night. He has apartments at the Aragon Hotel with his mother, Mrs. H. H. Smith.

Mr. Cuyler held a long conference with his attorney, James W. Austin, Saturday morning. Both declined to discuss the suit other than to say that there have been no developments of importance.

Mr. Cuyler and Mr. Austin also declined to say whether service in the suit has been obtained upon Mrs. Barton. It is understood the next step of the Atlanta man hinges upon certain developments expected in New York City soon. Rumor has it that Mrs. Barton is in New York and that service will be obtained there.

The suit was filed in the Chicago Superior Court October 1 by John M. Rankin and Frank D. Fulton, attorneys, acting for Mr. Cuyler. It followed the granting of a divorce to Mrs. Cuyler in Alabama, Cal., several weeks before.

WILSON'S MONEY BILL IS READY FOR SENATE

Calls for Eight Regional Banks.
Minority, Aided by Hitchcock,
Frames Own Measure.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The currency reform bill, as it probably will go to the Senate with the approval of President Wilson, has just been completed by six Democrats of the Senate Banking and Currency Committee. Senator Hitchcock and the five Republican members of the committee continued to write into their draft of the measure amendments which the White House has disapproved.

perished at a man on the team but realized that this time Tech's hope must be stopped—that his slaying game must be a down-out. Tech's hope was dead and buried. And the Tech line-up was uneven, too, to the last call.

There was a flourish, a certain air of alert expectancy, a certain flash of the spirit that moved the vast crowds on their uttering way, the flash of the spirit that moved the vast crowds on their uttering way, the flash of the spirit that moved the vast crowds on their uttering way.

The spirit may have been the same, and the red-blooded, earnest, sharp encounter—and who shall say that a mighty roar swept the air of Ashby than that which rings across the white lines and the helmeted heads at Grand Field to-day, in the "big game" of the year?

UNION MEN FIGHT ARBITRATION ON CANAL

Preposterous for U. S. to Recognize England in Regulation of Internal Affairs, Is Urged.

SEATTLE, Wash., Nov. 14.—Taking up the consideration of resolutions previously introduced, the delegates to the American Federation of Labor got down to the hard grind of routine business after being called to order this morning. These resolutions were new and startling innovations both in the Federal constitution, the work of the government and in other existing conditions.

A bitter fight is being waged against arbitration with Great Britain on the Panama Canal question. The resolution on the arbitration question takes the stand that to submit the question of America's right to regulate its own internal affairs to an arbitration board of foreigners would be preposterous.

A general election at which all the voters of the nation shall have opportunity to decide the question of the day, exclusion of all aliens from the United States and Federal investigation into conditions on the Pennsylvania Railroad, comprise the chief matters of national significance under consideration at today's session.

Georgia Ostrich Flock To Be Feature Of Poultry Show

Here's a new feature of the Southern International Poultry Association show. Its ostriches. Secretary Potts is in communication with some of the big Georgia farms for a fine ostrich exhibit, and it is safe to say that they will be the biggest birds ever shown at a poultry show. Some of them are so husky that they drive to harness and there will probably be parades and races while they are here.

Plans are also being laid for a number of freak exhibits, one of the most remarkable of which will be a cross between a guinea and Rhode Island Red hen. In addition to these unusual features, letters are pouring in from leading regular poultry fairs not only in Georgia, but all over the country, promising birds for entry and also for exhibition purposes.

Some of the most famous birds in the world will be shown here at the Auditorium, December 1 to 6. Attention is called to the fact that all entries will close by midnight October 21.

ROME, Nov. 14.—Marconi, king of the wireless, is badly disappointed. He was duly elected Senator, but he ought to have been born a year earlier to be eligible for the job.

Fireman Shows His Bravery When Blaze Attacks Own Home

John Rosetti, a fireman of No. 1 Engine Company, in West End, has an opportunity to make a personal application of his experience as a fire-fighter early Friday morning when he led the fight against the flames which threatened his home at No. 151 Oak street. The firemen kept the blaze in the roof and small damage was done.

The fire is supposed to have originated from sparks from the chimney. It was discovered by Mrs. Rosetti, who telephoned an alarm to No. 1 company, and then carried her three children, one of them a baby, from the burning house.

Rosetti lives only about four blocks from the fire station and started on a run for his home before the horses were attached to the apparatus, when the captain shouted the address of his home. He had climbed upon the roof and was fighting the fire single handed when his fellow firemen arrived.

This business, mind you, is not to be discontinued, nor materially altered, but enlarged—expanded, if you please.

Cloud-Stanford's CASH RAISING Reorganization Sale

The opportunity you're offered now doesn't come often. Seldom do you participate in genuine reductions on high class wearables at this season of the year, and were not conditions just as they are with us, certainly we, too, would not offer them at reduced prices.

Our feeling in the matter would nearer prompt us to apologize rather than gloat over the fact of reducing prices in midseason—it's a little unethical, to say the least—and only extenuating circumstances, you may be sure, make it necessary. The necessity for it, however, is evident, and the shrewd and unskeptical are profiting immensely.

DRUG WILL CURE POET'S DESIRE FOR DEATH

Doctors Declare Medicine Is Needed for Gabriel D'Annunzio, Who Plans Suicide.

Also, all that I can give there is my path—
That and my song; my brief forgetfulness
Is ended and my heart with anguish Lies.

To-day I suffer with the bleeding wounds
Of those who wake amid the sandy beaches Bounding the desert and behold the stars.

So I awaken from the fevered dream
Of my unshaped for Spring, alone with the
And robed, alas, of even martyrdom.

Oh, distance! We had thought there a vain word,
Yet now thou stretchest through the violet night,
Tend and illimitable, merciless.

Lines by Gabriel D'Annunzio.

Cables from Italy announcing the intended suicide two years hence of Gabriel D'Annunzio, the famous poet and dramatist, have aroused interest in Atlanta.

The medical profession is interested because of the eccentric poet's declaration that the suicide would be the most extraordinary ever known, medicine and plenty of it recommended.

The world of art and letters is interested because of D'Annunzio's acknowledged talent and his unhappy faculty of becoming involved with women as he nears the age of fame.

His latest affair, overshadowing even that with Eleonor Duse, was with Ida Rubinstein, the Russian dancer. She allied D'Annunzio, even as he had allied himself with other beauties, and his suicidal tendency now is said to be the direct result of the heart-crushing received from her.

"Any man that talks suicide as D'Annunzio is doing things wrong medicine," declared a doctor, "and he needs a handful of it. Change of environment should also be given in large doses.

"I am satisfied that as soon as D'Annunzio cools off and thinks this over he will change his mind."

The lines from "The Last Song," the most recent of D'Annunzio's poems to gain wide reading, reflect the mental depression from which the poet is said to be suffering.

Following the unhappy termination of his affair with Ida Rubinstein, D'Annunzio threw himself into Italy's quest of Tripoli that he might forget the victory of the Russian dancer.
That she had given her heart to a former grand opera chorus man did not temper the rage of the poet of Duse.

The desert has made D'Annunzio even more unhappy, and now he plans death—but sufficient distance to give him ample time to change his mind.

DELIGHTS on FOOLISHNESS By JAMES B. NEVIN

The new State Game Warden, Charles L. Davis, who was named by Governor Slaton to succeed Warden Morris, has taken hold of his job with energy and unostentatiousness, but with an evident determination to make it blissfully useful to the State and helpful to the game situation.

Mr. Davis is, perhaps, the original advocate of rigid game laws in Georgia, having noted years ago that game soon would be utterly and hopelessly extinct unless something was done to head off the slaughter.

His efforts to get a suitable game law enacted, although strenuous and often heartily supported by the press, for years proved ineffective. Finally, however, a real game law was enacted, and a separate and distinct department for its enforcement was established. Since then Mr. Davis has been a fairly busy man.

The new Game Warden is rather a quiet and reserved individual, not permitting himself to say anything that might be construed as an insinuation of himself. It is very well known, of course, that he has some entirely preferred and decided ideas as to the proper conduct of his office, but that he has had nothing much to say for the public as to those ideas.

He states, in answer to inquiry, that he will have nothing to say publicly concerning the details of his office, and the work already accomplished.

The Financial Enterprise of the current week contains the following item of news, which will be read by many of the general audience with interest and pleasure.

"The bill, County of moving onward and upward, and to keep pace with the rapid growth of the county now has two Representatives in the Lower House of the Georgia Legislature. The new Representative put in an appearance at the home of the Government, W. T. Paulk Tuesday morning.

His first public appearance at this interesting event over the river constituted a warm friendly and unusually happy smile. Of course, the new Representative will be known to W. T. Paulk as this is the only boy in the family."

Major Edward P. Lawton, formerly of Savannah, has been named by the President military attaché to the American Legation in Bern, Switzerland.

Major Lawton and the American Minister to Switzerland, Pleasant A.
Barnes, were warm friends of long standing, and it is through the personal efforts of the Minister that the major has been named military attaché to the Bern Legation.

Major Lawton is a member of one of Georgia's oldest and most prominent families long resident in South Georgia. He is a graduate of the Spanish-American War. Major Lawton is married and has three children. He is engaged in the First States Army to engage in the First

11 Cents Per Barrel
For Oil Brings Suit

The suit of T. R. Purcell against the Texas Company for $100,000, resulting in the Federal court on a petition by the Texas Company refusing to pay the suit, was set aside yesterday by the Federal court. The court, and asking for a contract for oil from "barrels" to "gallons."

On March 23 Purcell signed a contract with the Texas Company for the delivery of 1000 barrels of oil at a price of 11 cents. The company insists that the contract should have read gallons instead of barrels, and that this was the understanding until the price of oil materially increased. Purcell, however, insisted to refer to his contract and made the delivery of oil called for barrels.
Instead of gallons of oil, immediately he called for the delivery of the barrels of oil, which the company declined. He then filed suit for $100,- 000, which he claimed would have been his profit had the contract been up to the written terms of the contract.

"Society Vaudeville" Title of En-

17 by S. V. D. Fraternity.

"Society vaudeville" will be the title of the first amateur performance to be given in Atlanta this year.
At a meeting of the S. V. D. Fraternity at Hotel Ansony it was decided to stage this for the benefit of the Industrial Home for the Blind.

The Atlanta Theater has been re-talented for the night of Wednesday, December 15. James J. Brown, is to be director. Business headquarters have been opened at Hotel Ansony, and the first rehearsal will be held there Saturday night at 8 o'clock.

A number of copyrighted vaudeville acts for the occasion, and also a large number of exclusive songs which will be sung for the first time.

Among the sketches will be "How the Vote Was Won," by Clyde Hamilton, the famous English orator. The leading part in this sketch was created by Sir J. Forbes-Robertson.

Another sketch written by an author of note, Julian Roberts, will be used, and a third, entitled "Hafden Alas Warfield," has been written especially for "Society Vaudeville," and will be given its premier performance on this night by a select cast of talent.

Behind the dramatic sketches will be a number of musical sketches, including the program among them being "In an Atlanta Cabaret." This is adapted from one of the most successful vaudeville sketches on the stage today. Another musical number will contain forty men and forty women in a complete scene entitled "At Silver Lake." This will be the scene of the S. V. D. camp held last year.

A HAPPY CHILD IN A FEW HOURS

When Croup, Constipated, Feverish, Give "California Syrup of Figs."

Mother, can rest easy after giving "California Syrup of Figs," because in a few hours all the clogged-up bowels move out of the bowels, and you have a well, cheerful child again. "Children Syrup" will not take the time from play to empty their bowels, and they become light, playful, restful and sleep soundly and sweetly.

When croup, feverish, restlessness, are caused, as croup, then give this delicious "Fruit Laxative." Children love it, and it can not cause injury. No other what will give your little one a full of cold, or a sore throat, diarrhea, stom-achache, bad breath, resembling a general "inside cleaning" should always be the first treatment given. Full directions for babies, children of all ages and grown-ups are printed on each bottle.

Beware of counterfeit fig syrups. Ask your druggist for a "Genuine Syrup of California Syrup of Figs," then look carefully and see that it is made by the "California Fig Syrup Company." We make no smaller size. Hand Laxative contains any other fig syrup—Adv.

A large percentage of the receipts for the night will be given to the Industrial Home for the Blind. As the thought that by that time the present drive will be over, the sum amount they will receive from "So-

All-Weather Treads

A Goodyear Innovation

Both for Dry Roads
And Slippery

Here now is a tread which combines the advantage of the smooth and the anti-skid.
A tread for all wheels and all seasons.
Economical, enduring, flat and smooth-running. And yet an anti-skid, when needed, with a bulldog grip.

It is double-thick, and made of rubber toughened by a secret process. Immensely wear-resisting.
So thick that the blocks are very deep. So tough that the blocks last for thousands of miles. They never all wear off.

The surfaces are flat and broad. The blocks are in alignment. So it runs like a plain tread. No vibration as there is with irregular projections.

The edges are sharp and they stay sharp. They are placed at an angle of 45 degrees to face the skidding direction. No other device has ever offered such tenacious grip to every sort of road.

The blocks widen out so they meet at the base.
Thus the strains are distributed over the fabric just as with smooth-tread tires. With separate projections the strains are centered at small points in the fabric.
That is what made anti-skids short-lived.

Yet this All-Weather tread, with all these advantages, costs less than the average anti-skid.

No man who makes a five-minute comparison will accept an old-type anti-skid.
And no careful motorist, especially in winter, will go without this protection.

Let us convince you.
Before you buy another tire, inspect this All-Weather tread.

WILSON'S MONEY BILL IS READY FOR SENATE

Calls for Eight Regional Banks.
Minority, Aided by Hitchcock,
Frames Own Measure.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 15.—The currency reform bill, as it probably will be called, is ready for the approval of President Wilson, has just been completed by six members of the Senate Finance Committee. Senator Hitchcock, chairman of the committee, has just introduced it into the Senate. The bill is a measure to reorganize the Federal Reserve System, and is expected to be passed by the Senate in the near future.

STOCKS

By CHARLES W. STORM

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—A steady advance in the stock market today, and among them the loss of a point in New York, New Haven and Hartford, which brought that stock to 75, the lowest mark it ever touched.

In spite of the possibilities in the Mexican situation, National Railway of Mexico second preferred was exceptionally strong, advancing 1/4 to 12 1/2.

Missouri Pacific continued to be strong in considerable quantity, declining 1/4 to 26, the lowest point it has reached in many years.

There were indications in the securities market that the list was better supported, however, it was small, and the weather conditions in the South were unfavorable and after prices had risen a few minutes the market again fell.

COTTON

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—Liverpool cables had little effect upon the cotton market at the opening today, and whereas it had been expected that the prices here would be to 8 points lower, in reality they were only 2 to 3 points off from Friday's close.

The weakness in the market was attributed to hedge selling, and the weather in the southern half of the corn belt, which caused the offerings in the pit to become quite light.

Calls were up to 1/2 higher, with shorts covering.

A Dramatic Story of High Society Life in New York
Adapted from the Big Broadway Success by Owen Davis

You Can Begin This Great Story To-day by Reading This First

THE opening scene is laid in the parlor of Charles Nelson, a successful business man, who has just returned from a successful trip to Europe. He is sitting in his armchair, looking at a portrait of his late wife, who died of a heart attack. He is thinking of the many things she had done for him, and how she had always been honest and straightforward. He is feeling a little lonely, and he is wondering if he will ever find someone like her again.

“PILLY was thrown into the sea on a Tuesday. Johnny Mason reached London on Wednesday, and kept his appointment with Inspector Bradley on Thursday evening. The inspector received him graciously, his charming from the ex-convict’s mind a lurking suspicion that matters were not all as they seemed. There is a curious sympathy between the police and well-known criminals. They meet with a readiness and exchange pleasantries at a watertight meeting with a will at all hours.”

“But Mason had no responsive smile or ready quip.”
“What?” he demanded, morosely.
“You sent for me. Here I am. I would have brought my ticket sooner if you hadn’t written.”
“All right, Mason. Keep your wits. Do you remember Superintendent Robinson?”
“Him? That was Inspector in White-chapel when I was put away? Rather.”
“Well, some friends of yours have been leading from him to your whereabouts. He sent a message round, and I pointed that you should meet them if you showed up. I was half afraid you had bolted to the States.”
“Fainted! I have no friends.”
“Oh, yes, you have—very dear, dear friends.”
“Then where are they?”
He glanced around the roomy police office, but it was only a rooming house, a place where a man might be found who was looking for a place to stay. He was looking for a place to stay. He was looking for a place to stay.

BULLETS RAIN ON EL PASO WHILE FIGHT RAGES 103 SAVED FROM BURNING SHIP BY WIRELESS

DOG SHOW PROVES GREAT SUCCESS; WILL BE MADE AN ANNUAL EVENT

NEW YORK, Nov. 15.—The Spanish steamship Balmes, bound from Havana to Cadiz, is burning at sea. Her 103 passengers have been rescued by the Cunard liner Pannonia.

The latest exploit of heroism at sea was effected first by the wireless message from the Pannonia to the radio station at Cape Race, and later details were sent from the agent at St. John's, N. B., to the Pannonia, which she is now towing.

The Balmes was carrying a cargo of cotton and rum, and when fire broke out, the crew fled rapidly to the lifeboats. In spite of the efforts of her crew, the ship was unable to respond to wireless S. O. S. calls for assistance, the Pannonia rushed to the scene of the burning ship, and, after making inquiries, took her aboard and towed her to St. John's.

Aside from her course to convey the Balmes to Bermuda.

The Pannonia is the third Cunard liner to be used to give aid to a helpless ship at sea.

the transfer. It is believed that the crew of the Spanish ship stayed on board to continue fighting the fire as well as to save the ship if possible. The commander of the commandeered ship, Captain Luther B. Doyne, is considered one of the best navigators on the Atlantic, and a man of cool courage in time of danger. He was in command of the Thomas W. Lawson when that ship was wrecked on the Selby Island, and refused to leave the vessel until it went to pieces beneath his feet. After the Titanic disaster he commanded the Albatross, a capital ship. Captain Rostrom was in Washington receiving a medal from Congress for heroism.

When the blaze was discovered, pumps were manned and water lashed into the building. Firemen checked it, the hatches were locked to keep out air and the heavy boat lammed in.

The steel decks were so hot the firemen could not get close enough to make them amenable, and the sides were so hot that the got in sailing distance of aid. The captain's wife, Mabel McClellan, was forced from her cabin by the heat during the night, worked with the seamen at the pumps.

'LITTLE WOMEN' WINS HUMAN APPEAL

Excellent Cast Backed by Superb Stage Management Seen in Alcott Production.

By TARLETON COLLIER.

About the play "Little Women" first of all, there were, probably never dramatized as convincingly as the one who staged Louise Alcott's book. The conversation is the conversation of the story. There are the same gestures, the identical careers.

There was never a producer, so that you see just what you had hoped and expected. If you are one of the persons who have read the story, you go to the play and find out what the stage people have done with it. There is proper dress and good-fellowship, winning, and little Beth and artificial Amy. In the convincing scene, portrayed by young women who are most sympathetic.

Particularly Jo, now, and then there may be a bit of the ingenueness of the novel. But all the ways there is the robust personality of Miss Margery Taylor, as Jo, and her proper Jo, to assure you that things are all right.

Lines of Book Used.
The play is in four acts, taking up the arrival of the telegraph to Margaret, telling that Father March is in Washington. John Brooks' courtship of Meg, Laurie's courtship of Jo, the advent of Professor Bhaer, the death of Beth, and the winning of Jo by the lovely German on Plumfield Farm.

At the book, the play is a chronicle of the March girls. You can well imagine that the lines of the book lend themselves well to sympathy, their laughter and tears. It is in all a very human sort of thing, even when the women of the audience may shamelessly, even proudly, cry "Little Women" with the substantial support of a story that is known and loved everywhere, is a triumphant success, the exception among these simple family-chronicle plays. It is a wholesome sort of morality, at least, naturally, it is a success, that might be found in a play.

Even in "Little Women" there is an imperceptible sort of lagging toward the end. The first act superb, merely with its picture of the girls, the second must depend on the story, the third on its plaintive appeal in the death of Beth, and in the fourth you catch the first realization of the closing. But it is a gem, a gem, and never is realized.

The play ends in a most impressive, something after the manner of the old play.

Cast Is Capable.
The cast is capable. Margaret Taylor as Mrs. March, Eleanor Carey as Aunt March, Gavin Harris as Mr. Lawrence, The Cunningham as Hannah Muller are by turns pleasing, admirable, excellent in the parts of the older folks.

Max Ferguson is a convincing Professor Bhaer, and is true to the type of lovable old scholar that Miss Alcott drew. George M. Clark is a handsome Laurie, except when he is too serious, and C. C. Gwynne is good as John Brook.

Larry Cotton plays Meg, Margery Taylor as Jo, Virginia Henton as Beth, and Elaine Henton is the Amy. The charm of the play depends, naturally, most upon the girls, and it is so that there is little wanting there is to say much for their work, because merit is demanded of them.

An audience too small for the desert of the play will sit Thursday night. Matinee will be given Friday and Saturday, and performances Friday and Saturday night.

Big Audiences See Bill at Forsyth.
Matinee and night performances today and Saturday will conclude the engagement of the vaudeville artists who make up the program at the Forsyth this week. There has been a wide difference of opinion as to the merit of the bill, but the theater has been crowded at the daily matinee and night performances all the week, and there has been applause and laughter for all the acts.

The Nine White Hussars win a big hit with their band and vocal numbers, and Ed Hayward scores tremendously in his ventriloquist novelty. For next week the headliner will be Charles Grainger and Anna Chance and their company in a vaudeville edition of "The Awakening of Mr. Pigg."

Urstory, in Jail, Says He Will Tell Wife Truth About Poison

HAZLEHURST, Nov. 14.—Patrick Urstory, in jail at Hazlehurst, accused of putting poison in flour from which biscuits were made for the family of J. G. Rose, his father-in-law, to-day declared that he will tell his wife the truth and that if he is guilty she will forsake him.

Urstory acknowledges having purchased strychnine—the poison alleged to have been placed in the flour. Samples of the flour will be taken to the State Board of Health's laboratory in Atlanta on Monday by Dr. Hoffman of this city, for analysis.

Mrs. Urstory went to Hazlehurst to-day to see her husband in the jail there and hear his statement.

QUICKLY STOPS WORST BACKACHE

Makes Kidney, Bladder Disorders and Rheumatic Pains Vanish.

If you suffer with backaching kidney trouble, have disagreeable bladder and urinary disorders, or are tormented with rheumatism, stiff joints and heart-wrenching pains, you will be surprised how quickly and surely Croxone will relieve all such misery. It works right in through the walls, membranes and linings, cleans out and strengthens the stopped-up organs, neutralizes, dissolves, and makes the kidneys soft out and filter away the uric acid and poisons from the blood, and leaves the kidneys and urinary organs clean, strong, active and healthy.

It matters not how long you have suffered, how old you are, or what you have tried. It is practically impossible to take Croxone without results, for it starts to work the minute you take it.

If you suffer with pains in the back or sides; if you are nervous, tired and run down, bothered with urinary disorders, or have any signs of kidney, bladder troubles or rheumatism, don't spend another needless day suffering. Secure an original box of Croxone to-day, and prove for yourself what it can do, as thousands of others have done, just how quickly it will relieve you.

Croxone is inexpensive, and every druggist is authorized to return the purchase price if it fails in a single case.—Advt.

WHY IT SUCCEEDS

Because it's For One Thing Only, and Atlanta People Appreciate This.

Nothing can be good for everything. Doing one thing well brings success.

Doan's Kidney Pills are for one thing only.

For weak or disordered kidneys. Here is Atlanta evidence to prove their worth.

J. C. Swinney, 88 Pearl St., Atlanta, Ga., says: "During the past three years I have not had any trouble from my kidneys and back. I owe my freedom from kidney ailments to Doan's Kidney Pills. When I began taking this remedy, I was suffering intensely, but it soon restored me to good health."

Mr. Swinney is only one of many Atlanta people who have gratefully indicated Doan's Kidney Pills. If your back aches---if your kidneys bother you, don't simply ask for a kidney remedy---ask distinctly for Doan's Kidney Pills.

It is the name that has made Doan's Kidney Pills the remedy backed by human testimony. It's all across. Foster-McMillan Co., Props., Buffalo, N. Y. "When Your Back Is Lame---Remember the Name."---Advt.

Miss Emily Coye to Have Charge of Exhibit of Associated Charities.

"Give the baby a chance!" These five words, in the opinion of Miss Emily Coye, of Rochester, N. Y., an expert in child welfare work, should be the motto of every American mother. It is the doctrine preached by social and welfare workers all over the world, and the importance will be brought before Atlanta mothers by Miss Coye and Miss Ellen C. Habbitt, of Washington, during the Atlanta Child Welfare Exhibit, of which they will be in charge, and which will be held in the old Leiden House on Peachtree street, December 1-15, under the auspices of the Associated Charities.

"The care of the baby should be the sole aim and purpose of every mother," Miss Coye said Friday, "for in care for the baby and to give the little one a chance to be informed the nation against weak and spiritless men and women."

Miss Coye Friday morning gave to "Twelve Don'ts for Mothers," the fruit of several years' study and investigation into the question of how best to care for the child all of them are simple rules, and can easily be followed by the poorest of mothers.

"The result, Miss Coye declared, would be healthy babies, contented babies, and babies that would develop naturally into strong and vigorous men and women. Here are the twelve "don'ts":

1. Don't forget to register the baby's birth.

2. Don't let the baby sleep on bathers.

3. Don't allow the windows in the baby's sleeping room to be closed. A closed window opens the door to the undercurrent.

4. Don't ask your druggist how to feed your baby; don't ask your neighbors how to feed your baby---ask the doctor.

5. Don't feed the baby soothing syrups.

6. Don't let the baby get near anyone who has a cold.

7. Don't let flies crawl on the nipple of the baby's bottle, or on the baby, and don't let the baby have a pacifier.

8. Don't forget to give the baby a drink of cool boiled water between feedings. Most people remember to give water to the dog and the cat---remember the baby, too.

9. Don't give the baby a drink out of a public drinking cup.

10. Don't kiss the baby on the mouth every day. Let the baby have its own wash cloths, soap and towels.

11. Don't forget to have the baby vaccinated. One pox on the arm is better than a dozen on the face.

12. Don't forget to give the baby a bath every day.

"All Possible Information Regarding the Mexican Situation"

That Would Be a Good Deal of Information. Here is SOME Information.
 (Copyright, 1913.)

The editor of The Georgian has received the following letter from a young man who is a student in a high school in one of the progressive cities of South Georgia:

"Dear Sir—Will you kindly send me all information possible regarding the Mexican situation? There will be a debate at our high school next week. I am to take the negative side of the question, 'Should the United States Intervene in the Mexican Situation?'"

Here is at least a little information:
 Mexico is a wonderful country of opportunity and fertility. The opportunity and the fertility are neglected and go to waste for lack of the right kind of government.

The powerful man who ruled with a hand of iron was removed, and no man came with power to take his place.

Mexico lacks a man of intelligence, character and motives to represent the will and welfare of the Mexican people. And she lacks a man with the genius to rule by force and keep peace by dread of his own greater violence.

The United States sooner or later MUST REGULATE MEXICAN CONDITIONS. Murder and anarchy can not continue indefinitely on this continent. The United States is bound to maintain order and respect for life and property or abandon the Monroe Doctrine, which forbids European governments to interfere with governments on this continent.

The United States WILL NOT ABANDON THE MONROE DOCTRINE.

Our President at Washington has pursued a policy thus far which may be compared with the conduct of an able-bodied gentleman who saw his neighbor beating his wife to death. The able-bodied gentleman shook his finger at the wife beater and said, "Naughty, naughty, you must stop that."

Mr. Wilson will get tired of shaking his finger after a while. He will realize that a murderous dictator and his gang are different from a class of sophomores.

Eventually the United States will be compelled to attend to its duty as self-appointed regulator of conditions on this continent.

In what way the United States will act can not be foretold at this moment.

It is suggested that the Mexicans in revolt against Huerta's criminal government be freely supplied with arms from our side of the line.

At present we do not permit arms and ammunition to be sent to the revolutionists from our territory. Thus the rebellion against Huerta is crippled and he is kept in power because his opponents lack weapons to fight with.

If we should permit unlimited shipping of rifles, cannon and ammunition to Mexico, it is quite probable that the revolutionists would overthrow Huerta, the present dictator.

But these questions arise:
 What man would they put up in Huerta's stead and what would be his character?

And if we found it necessary to intervene and pacify Mexico, should we not feel rather foolish if our soldiers were shot at from house tops and hill tops with guns sent in UNLIMITED QUANTITIES FROM THIS COUNTRY WITH OUR PERMISSION?

Inasmuch as we may have before long to send our own men to police and pacify Mexico, isn't it better to have a few arms in the hands of Mexicans as possible?

Another very important question is raised by President Wilson's quite solemn statement (which, of course, is binding only on Woodrow Wilson) that the United States would not take or conquer any more territory on this continent.

Of course Woodrow Wilson has no right whatever to bind the United States by any statement of that kind. He is the representative of the people, not THE CONSCIENCE of the people. And it is not for him or any other man to say that the United States shall not extend to Mexico and all the way down to our possessions in Panama the advantages of the United States government and partnership that have been extended to Texas, California and other regions outside of our own empire.

However, Mr. Wilson is President, and if we are obliged to send troops into Mexico during his term they will go to Mexico with the understanding that he will do what he can to arrange matters so that their fighting, their dangers and the death of many will do no particular good to this country or to anybody else.

What good would it do the United States to spend a few millions and sacrifice a few thousand American lives now to pacify Mexico for a little while?

Does anybody imagine that anything but actual ownership will permanently pacify the Mexican territory?
 How would the soldiers feel if told, "You may go to Mexico and be shot, and then you can come home and some Mexican gentlemen will get the reward of your work and run the country?"

We are afraid that they would not feel very enthusiastic. Mexico and the Mexican need, although many of them may not realize it, just exactly what the inhabitants of territory in Texas and California and elsewhere needed before they entered the Union.

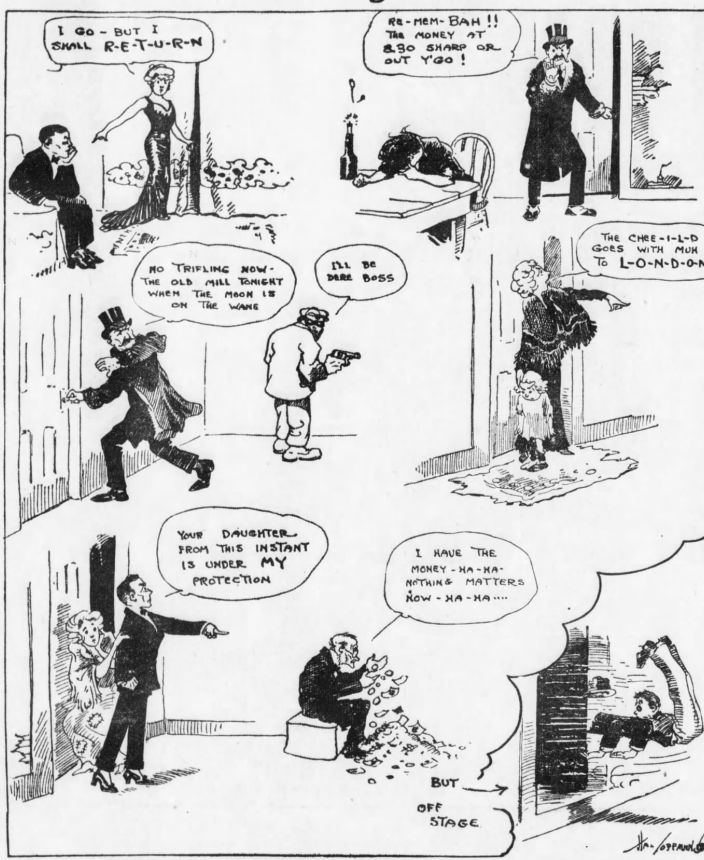

Mexico needs stable government, partnership in the greatest nation on this continent, prosperity, schools, industries, equal rights for all, encouragement for agriculture—all these things and many others the United States could give to Mexico.

The high school boy who writes us will find it hard work to take the negative side of the question, "Should the United States Intervene in the Mexican Situation?"

If you were a very big and powerful man living next door to a quarrelsome, murderous little individual, shooting, hanging and cutting throats every day, you would be bound in common decency to intervene and protect the weak.

That is Uncle Sam's situation as regards Mexico.

The Stage Exit

The Price of the Monroe Doctrine

By DR. C. H. PARKHURST

WE are discovering in the Monroe Doctrine a meaning rather badly bruised even our own side of this one-sided contract; but, for some reason not altogether explicable to the lay mind, this has not diminished the insistence on the part of our Government that Europe should observe the Eastern end of the doctrine, although never fully agreed to by Europe.

The doctrine was a kind of contract, although definitely proposed by only one of the contracting parties, which leaves the other party free to disregard it whenever it sees fit. It was the statement on our part that we would let the Eastern world alone with the understanding that the Eastern world should let us alone, particularly the Central and South American Republics.

Of course, by putting ourselves into the Philippines we have rather badly bruised even our own side of this one-sided contract; but, for some reason not altogether explicable to the lay mind, this has not diminished the insistence on the part of our Government that Europe should observe the Eastern end of the doctrine, although never fully agreed to by Europe.

It is a singular situation and will continue only until some Eastern power shall see its way clear to interrupt it, which may come some time or may not.

But until it is interrupted we practically obligate ourselves to settle for Europe all the quarrels which it may have with any public in Central or South America.

And the fault which England, Germany and France are finding with us just now is due to what they regard as our reluctance in carrying out our part of the engagement, for in forbidding them to land a force on the Western Continent we practically agree to settle their quarrels for them, to do gratuitous police service for them, to fight their battles for them and meet the expense therefor out of our own pockets.

That is the price we are paying for our Monroe Doctrine. It is liable to become somewhat expensive, but so long as we are disposed to incur that expense Europe will be reconciled to our insistence upon the doctrine; but should we decline at any time to furnish gratuitous army and navy to promote the interests of our joint interests with them, then we may expect them to tear up the doctrine as so much waste paper and as being the product of our Government's presumption.

Although realizing the advantage accruing to the republican form of government by so far as possible keeping monarchial influences out of the reach of American republics, still it is a good deal of an undertaking for a government even as strong as our own to divide up the world according to our predilections and to determine in advance the line upon which governmental history shall run for the next thousand or ten thousand years.

United States Will Use 30,000,000 Autos

THE development of the automobile industry in the past five years has been so marvelous that leading authorities hold that within the next few decades 30,000,000 motor cars will be in use in the United States.

These figures stagger the imagination. But statistics tell us that 1,100,000 automobiles were produced during the year 1912 and are now in actual use, and that during the coming year 400,000 new cars will be manufactured and sold.

It is now definitely stated that the Standard Oil Company has completed arrangements to enter the automobile industry by purchasing several large factories and increasing their capacity to 100,000 machines in a single season, and that the price of the machines to be manufactured will range from $500 to $1,000. Other manufacturers have completed plans for greatly increased production. These developments have caused the leading authorities in the industry to issue the forecast that within another ten years there will be not less than 11,000,000 automobiles in actual service.

With the industry in its present state of development, there is enough money invested in automobiles in the United States to build four Panama Canals.

The Keokuk dam, recently opened at a cost of $17,000,000 and generating 300,000 horsepower of electrical current, was regarded as one of the mid-continent marvels.

And yet, the horsepower capacity of the automobile engines in use in the United States is equal to the combined capacity of 33 such plants as the Keokuk dam!

If the horsepower capacity of all the automobiles in use in the United States was concentrated in one huge engine, it could drive the machinery of every industrial plant in the country with enough surplus power to operate all its electric light plants and propel all the battleships of the United States navy.

And there would still be an unused surplus of approximately 8,000,000 horsepower of energy.

Letters From the Readers of The Georgian

"GIVES A BAD OPINION."

Editor The Georgian:
 Noticing a letter to The Georgian regarding the inhuman way the horses and mules are treated here in Atlanta, would also like to add my plea for better treatment to the poor dumb beasts.

Locating here two years ago from a neighboring city where the humane society was doing so much good work, it appeared so strange that a city the size of Atlanta and with so many charitable people should be so cruelly neglectful of the dumb animals that are being hourly mistreated.

Strangers coming here noticing the inhuman treatment of its animals go away with a very bad opinion of the people. M. B. C.

Garrett P. Serviss

Writes on Light by Wireless
 Is Possible Now

Students Believe Illumination by Vibrations Sent Through the Ether Will Be the Next Great Advance of Science.

By GARRETT P. SERVISS

FROM wireless telephony to wireless light—such is the program that certain bold spirits have proposed for the next great advance of practical science.

In wireless telephony a voice drops out of circumambient space—the voice of a friend hundreds of miles away, whose syllables were transformed at the place where he spoke them into electric undulations which spread noiselessly through the ether like circles on a pond. At the point where you are these passing electric waves flutter the sensitive antennae of a receiving instrument and are eventually replaced again by the vibrations of sound. If we had wireless light it also would consist of undulations caught by the antennae of a receiving instrument, but they would be shorter than those employed by telephony, and when rendered perceptible it would be the eye instead of the ear that would be impressed by them.

The man who had this kind of light in his house would push a button and instantly the room would be illuminated by glowing waves caught out of the ether, where before their transformation they had been passing in a flood of invisible billows.

It would be far more mysterious than the electric lights of today, for we can see the wires that supply them with current and connect them with the dynamo, whereas the waves producing wireless light would come, without any conveying cables or tangible connections of any kind, from the point where the electric energy was produced, which might be hundreds of miles away, without even an ordinary pole, less a line of telegraph poles, connecting it with the place where the light was revealed. A distant river, rolling on its way, would have the energy of its waters transformed into the vibrations required to produce wireless light, those vibrations would flow away, unseen, following the curves of the globe, and at this point and that, in this city, in that village, on yonder farm, wherever a human mind willed it so, they would be transformed at the touch of tiny antennae into rays and beams of glorious light.

The experiments which are continually being made with new forms of vapor lamps, caused to glow by an electric current, give another promise for the future in that they indicate the possibility that, any day, someone may discover the substance which, when electrically excited, concentrates its energy of vibration entirely within the limits of the visible spectrum.

Such a substance would then furnish us with the nearest approach to "light without heat" that we could ever attain, an approach much nearer than that made by the glowworm with its vaulted cold light.

Editorial Comment on the Frank Case

A STRANGE RULING.
 Editorial in Memphis (Tenn.) Commercial Appeal.

In overruling the motion for a new trial in the Frank case in Atlanta, Ga., it is stated that the judge, Mr. Roan, made the following announcement from the bench:

"I have given this question long consideration. It has given me more concern than any other case I ever was in. And I want to say here that, although I heard the evidence and the arguments during those 30 days, I do not know this morning whether Frank is innocent or guilty. But I was not the one to be convinced. The jury was convinced, and I must approve their verdict and overrule the motion."

Frank had been convicted of murder. The verdict was returned by a jury of twelve men. Motion was made for a new trial, and after arguments were in the statement quoted is said to have been made by the court.

This statement of the judge we submit to lawyers skilled in matters of criminal procedure in the belief that they, from the legal point of view, will agree that the judge should have ordered a new trial.

We think that lawyers hold to the principle that in a motion for a new trial the court becomes, as it were, a juror, and unless he is convinced beyond a reasonable doubt of the guilt of the accused, he must grant a new trial.

If a judge sustains a verdict rendered by a jury, he then becomes equal to the jury as a supporter of that verdict. If the judge, then, is a supporter of a verdict, he is in an illogical position if he does not know whether the accused is innocent or guilty, or that the verdict is right or wrong.

If the evidence is not sufficient to let his mind rest easily on the accuracy of the guilty verdict, then he is in a bad way in sustaining it.

Looking at this statement by the judge from the logical point of view of the layman, an analysis of it is interesting.

"I do not know this morning whether Leo Frank is innocent or guilty," says the judge.

In the everyday affairs of life when we do not know that a man is bad, we must presume that the man is good. The presumption of a man's goodness of character goes with him everywhere.

If, after having all the evidence, this judge does not know, then he is in a state of doubt. If he is in a state of doubt, he is uncertain. He is uncertain, his mind is fixed on nothing, and if his mind is fixed on nothing, his mind is incapable of acting in any orderly manner.

If the judge, in overruling the motion for a new trial, did not know whether the man was guilty or not guilty, his act was similar to that of an infant or an insane person, because he did a thing without a reasonable cause.

In this case it does seem that it was the duty of the judge, failing to be convinced one way or the other, to declare the trial not trial, because so far as his mind was concerned it was no trial, for it settled nothing in his mind.

In the last sentence of his statement the judge says: "But I was not the one to be convinced. The jury was convinced, and I must approve their verdict and overrule the motion." The judge, then, apparently bases his act upon the act of the jury. He then should not have permitted the lawyers to consume time in arguing for a new trial.

In effect he states that the jury's verdict was a finality with him, regardless of what he thought or didn't think. Therefore, he should have saved the attorneys' and both sides the expense of preparing briefs for and against a rehearing.

AT SUNSET

By LILLIAN LAUFERTY.

LOWING the sun in the golden dell;
 Hushed is the world at twilight's sweet voice;
 Gentle the murmur of dusk as it lingers,
 Soft is the rhythm as night winds rejoice.

Fading the sun in its wondrous receding
 Deep in the arms of the far Western skies;
 Endless the chorus when dark brings its music—
 Afterglow song in the hush when light dies.

Low is the whisper of night in the grasses,
 Endless are the hours here at evening's repose;
 So age and time grow more kind for the knowing,
 Darkest still pulses with music's sweet voice.

PENKNIFE CUT IS CAUSE OF DEATH

Two Young Men Held to Answer for Slaying in Girls' Home.

JACKSONVILLE, Fla., Nov. 14.—At a coroner's inquest before Justice C. D. Abbott and jury—S. Howell, G. H. Dodson, J. A. Bowen, A. W. Ross, J. L. Thomas—on the body of a girl, it was shown that a penknife in the hands of Archie King, and Earl Williams was named an accessory.

Pearl and Nellie Hodges, the girls in the case, testified that last night about 8 o'clock McWhite and Register came to the house with a note. Register went out and started a fight with King. McWhite, who had remained behind a tree, came to the help of McWhite then ran out of the house and shot King with a small iron safe of a toy wagon, dashed at King.

King testified that he went to the girls' house with a note. Register rushed out of the house at him, that as Williams took Register on him, he was aware of McWhite attacking him with an iron safe (axe), that McWhite hit him in the head with the safe, and that he then cut McWhite with his penknife, which he had opened when he saw that McWhite had the iron safe.

Carl Stewart, 16 years, testified that the iron safe belonged to him, and that he saw McWhite pick it up. Dr. Stanley Irwin testified that McWhite had died from a cut in the groin. Officer E. P. Lord testified that the arrests were made peacefully at the home of the defendant King. Mr. J. H. Adams, street agent, was fired at $1,000 cash, and was furnished by Rose A. Macomber and C. C. Armstrong.

Young Pair United; Husband Declares Parents Kidnapers

Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Ashworth, the former employed in a downtown department store, are again united after a harrowing separation, in which the young husband charged that his wife had been kidnapped from him by her parents.

Both told of how they had returned to the parents of Mrs. Ashworth, whom they claimed had kept her practically a prisoner in a boarding house at Tampa, Fla., while a suit to annul the marriage was being instituted.

According to their story, Mrs. Ashworth had started to assist for a visit, when she was forcibly taken from the train by her brother, Fred Humphrey, and carried to Tampa. Ashworth followed her there, and early in the week, through smuggled notes, got into communication. Later the young man went to the parents of his wife and demanded to let her wife choose for herself. Finally they consented, and Mrs. Ashworth flew into the arms of her husband.

The Ashworths were married June 16, and have since lived in Baker Virginia, near Mrs. Waddell at a wild party. Mrs. Roosevelt asked the pretty young women where they were going and they said they had signed a contract to appear at a music hall in Rio.

The contract had been arranged with Roy Chandler, an American, who books "acts" for South American playhouses.

Mrs. Roosevelt, consulted with her husband and with other Americans on board the Vandike, among them William C. Mackenzie, of New York, J. T. Pagan and a Mr. McJannet. The men agreed that the Rio music hall was no place for the girls.

Their wives told the girls about it, and arrangements were made immediately to send them back home to the Vedras.

But when they tried to take a launch to the Vedras, which lay in the harbor, they were arrested for breach of contract, taken to court, and a pompous Portuguese consul, who appeared against them, for the girls, who were in the hands of the consul, to whom Mrs. Roosevelt had written on her personal card.

"My dear Mr. Consul: If you can in any way save the girls from the clutches of the consul, I shall be very much obliged," Mrs. Theodore Roosevelt said.

She had addressed a similar card to the American Minister at Rio. The Consul left his preparations for the reception to the Roosevelt to take charge of the matter and the diplomatic forces brought to bear upon him had them on board the Vedras bound for home.

The Vandike was just going to her dock as the Vedras left.

On Monday, Nov. 14, the girls were taken to the home of Mrs. Shiras, No. 41 West 10th Street, and the girls were taken to the home of Mrs. Shiras, No. 41 West 10th Street, and the girls were taken to the home of Mrs. Shiras, No. 41 West 10th Street.

Friends on the Vandike had given them letters which would help them in settling employment here.
